By Telegraph to the News.

About one thousand dollars has been previously sent to the afflicted districts.

NEW ORLEANS, August 31.—Dr. Stone telegraphed from Grenada, yesterday: "The weather is unfavorable. There is a slight decrease in the death rate. There is no material spreading of the fever."

BAY ST. LOUIS, LA., Aug. 31.—One death occurred on the 18th inst.

OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS., Aug. 31.—Three cases yesterday morning. No deaths during the week.

WHEELING, W. VA., August 31.—The case reported through the press of the 28th inst., is officially pronounced not yellow fever.

PITTSBURG, PA., August 31.—A deck hand on the steamboat John A. Porter, arrived here August 25th and died the next day of yellow fever.

NEW YORK, August 31.—The Eastern passenger agent of the Mobile line says that in consequence of Mobile quarantining north bound trains from New Orleans, the impression has been created that south bound trains also are subjected to the same rule. Such is not the fact. Travel southward is uninterrupted. Pullman cars are run only to Mobile, and one change is made between Mobile and New Orleans, arriving at 9:20 a. m., instead of 7:30 a. m., schedule time.

NEW ORLEANS, August 31.—Rev. Father C. J. Beecuer, a native of Buffalo, N. Y., died yesterday of yellow fever.

The death list to-day includes twenty children under seven years of age.

The following telegram was received here this morning, and nurses will leave this afternoon:

PORT GIBSON, Aug. 31.

To the President of the Howard Association:

Send ten good nurses—five male and five female. Three hundred and fifty cases. Forty-eight deaths. All broken down. Great distress. (Signed)

JAMES A. GAGE.

Twenty-six applications for medical aid were made Saturday to the Young Men's Christian Association, and thirty for relief. The thirty seeking relief are heads of families, aggregating one hundred and seventy persons. Applications for relief are made out in blanks, specifying the name, age, address, number in the family, occupation and references. On a blank being filled out, it is given to a member, who institutes inquiry of the references, or makes a personal inspection, the result of which he embraces under the head of remarks. If satisfactory, a printed ration blank of the New Orleans Peabody Association is filled out, signed by the visiting member and stamped. The blank is then presented to the Peabody Depot, at the corner of Magazine and Lafayette streets, which was opened Saturday morning with a good supply of flour, meat, sugar, tea and corn meal. As early as 8:30 o'clock applicants made their appearance, and their wants were supplied.

The Telegraphers' Association here have sent one hundred dollars to the sick telegraphers at Grenada.

MEMPHIS, August 31.—The weather this morning is bright and warm, but the clouds of woe over our city show no signs of breaking. The physicians, nurses, visitors, druggists and undertakers are becoming exhausted by constant working. Dr. Wise, an active young physician, was taken down this morning. At the Board of Health office, up to noon, only seven physicians out of about twenty had made their reports of new cases, the number aggregating forty-two. From this it will be seen that not more than half the cases are reported, and that the epidemic is more appalling than the official reports indicate. At the county jail there are about twenty cases of fever. M. C. Williams, who was under sentence to the penitentiary for murder, died last night, and Buzzell, a negro murderer, who is under sentence of death, is in a dying condition.

At Camp Joe Williams five or six deaths occur daily.

The hospital contains about twenty-five sick, and the worst is feared for the poor people living in tents. Some have become frightened and have returned to their homes in the infected districts in the city. Alex Hume, of the Masonic Board of Relief, is down, and Joseph Russell, of the Odd Fellows' Relief Board, is very low. The undertakers report fifty-five yellow fever interments up to noon to-day.

NEW ORLEANS, August 31—To-days reports shows 234 new cases and 48 deaths.

WASHINGTON, D. C. August 31—Abstract of the sanitary reports received during the past week under the National Quarantine act: In New Orleans during the week ending yesterday at noon 1,204 cases of yellow fever and 325 deaths have occurred, making in all 2,877 cases and 867 deaths. In Vicksburg during the week 116 deaths from yellow fever; making 185 deaths in all, 17 of which occurred during the last twenty-four hours. It is estimated that 800 cases of fever have ocurred to date about half of these in the past week and and 59 new cases in the last 24 hours.

Dr. Booth in charge of the patients of the Main hospital service died on the 28th. Memphis: In this week 721 cases and 241 deaths.

MORGAN CITY, LA., August 31—The refugee reported last week sick of yellow fever died August 23rd.—7 other cases since occurred and 4 deaths up to noon yesterday.

Adjusting their Difficulties.

By Telegraph to the News.

NEW YORK, August 31.—The McKillon and Sprague Commercial and Collecting Agency have adjusted their difficulties as follows: The Ninth National Bank, of New York, and the Shoe and Leather Bank have extended their paper, aggregating twenty-nine thousand dollars, secured by personal endorsements and agency stock as collateral. Francis Hart & Co., printers, have extended their credit for two years without security, for twenty-five thousand dollars.

Parsons & Co., paper dealers, have also granted an extension. The indebtedness to John G. Tappan, which was capitalized last June, previous to his failure, assumed shape of four hundred and fifteen thousand dollars of agency stock. This was transferred to a Boston belting company, from whom it had been purchased at seventy-five per cent. discount, payable in twelve notes of D. J. Sprague and Lester M. Clark, maturing within three years, the stock being held as collateral.

Bankrupts.

By Telegraph to the News.

CHICAGO, August 31.—Among petitions in bankruptcy filed yesterday were Marcillus C. Collins real estate. Liabilities $116,500, Charles Cleaver, $130,000; James M. Bryant, $160,000; James F. Dane $188,000; Rev. Dr. W. W. Evarts, $81,000; Mursay A. Bartlett pump maker, $120,000; George R. Cnittenden, of Highland Park, $345,000; Nellie M. Chittenden, same place, 163,000; Niegelson and Shields, $157,000; Thomas L. Hempshead, of Jefferson, 116,000; Lowin A. Rice and Thos. Picking, $204,000; Robert C. Givens, $174,000; Ebenger A. Guthrie, $133,000; John F. Eberhardt, $104,000. In all 165 new petition were filed, and the indications are that to-day the number will be largely increased.

Foreign Intelligence.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, August 31.—A Pera dispatch says it is reported that Todleben has ordered the discontinuance of the embarkation of the Russian troops, because the English have not withdrawn from the island of Principos.

LONDON, August 31.—A special from Paris says the canard about M. Gambetta's proposed marriage with a reputed peeress, is sufficiently refuted by the fact that the lady named has been married five years, and her husband is alive.

Julian S. Carr, Esq.

Granville Free Lance.

The action of this gentlemen in the Convention last week has elicited many encomiums from Democrats in every portion of the District. His manly, ringing words in giving in his adherence to the regular nominee produced a thrill of admiration throughout that body, and disclosed a spirit of patriotism on the part of Mr. Carr which will not soon be forgotten.

Mr. Davis will find in Julian S. Carr one of his staunchest advocates during the campaign upon which our party is now entering, while his energy, liberality and zeal will prove most valuable auxiliaries in the county of Orange, where his popularity was shown by its unanimous vote for the candidacy to Congress in the nominating Convention.

Mr. Carr has just cause to be proud of the position he now occupies in the estimation of the Democracy of the Metropolitan District, who at the proper time will delight in honoring and trusting him.

Anecdotes of Daniel Webster.

The following letter, written by Daniel Webster to a young lady, (the daughter of Colonel Seaton, of the old National Intelligencer), who, after passing the evening at his house had gone home in a rainstorm wearing a borrowed hood and leaving her bonnet, was sent to her with the bonnet the next morning. As an example of his pretty—if rather ponderous—playfulness, and as a hint of his geniality in social life, it is unique:

"MONDAY MORNING, March 4, 1844.

My Dear Josephine:—I fear you got a wetting last evening, as it rained fast soon after you left our door; and I avail myself of the return of your bonnet to express the wish that you are well this morning and without cold. I have demanded parlance with your bonnet; have asked it how many tender looks it has noticed to be directed under it; what soft words it has heard, close to its side; in what instances an air of triumph has caused it to be tossed; and whether ever, and when, it has quivered from trembling emotions proceeding from below. But it has proved itself a faithful keeper of secrets and would answer none of my questions. It only remained for me to attempt to surprise it into confession, by pronouncing sundry names one after another. It seemed quite unmoved by most of these, but at the apparently unexpected mention of one I thought its ribbons decidedly fluttered! I gave it my parting good wishes, hoping that it might never cover an aching head, and that the eyes which it protects from the rays of the sun may know no tears but of joy and affection.

Yours, dear Josephine, with affectionate regard,

DANIEL WEBSTER."

The little touch of romance which is seen in this letter appears also in many events of Webster's life. The story of his courtship of his first wife is very pretty:

"He saw her first when he was a young lawyer at Portsmouth, and she was Miss Grace Fletcher. At one of his visits he had, probably with a view of utility and enjoyment, been holding skeins of silk thread for her, when suddenly he stopped, saying:

"Grace, we have been engaged in untying knots; let us see if we can tie a knot which will not untie for a lifetime."

He then took a piece of tape, and, after beginning a knot of a peculiar kind, gave it to her to complete. This was the ceremony and ratification of their engagement. And in the little box marked by him with the words "Precious Documents," containing the letters of his early courtship, this unique memorial was found—the knot never untied."

Address of Hon. A. M. Waddell.

Wilmington Star, 31st.

The Hon. A. M. Waddell, Democratic candidate for Congress from this District, opened the campaign last night with a capital and timely address on the political issues of the day, especially on the financial condition of the country and the attitude of the Democratic party thereto.

The crowd present was unusually large and attentive, notwithstanding the rainy weather and muddy streets.

Col. Waddell was appropriately introduced by Capt. C. D. Myers, Chairman of the Congressional Committee, and spoke from the portico of the Western Union Telegraph Company's office, which had been illuminated with Chinese lanterns, etc, for the occasion, earnestly and impressively, for nearly two hours, proving by facts and figures that the principal measures proposed by the Greenback party had been advocated by the Southern Democracy for years. He reviewed the condition and management of the finances of the country from the beginning of the war between the States to the present time, explaining and proving, by reference to authorities, that the present distress was owing to the outrageous manner in which the Republican party had legislated in favor of the capitalists and bondholders, and then appealed to his audience not to allow themselves to be betrayed into any third party movement, which could accomplish no good and only result in advantage to the Republicans, by whom, in the South, it was being secretly aided and abetted for that reason. He denounced the National Bank Act, and announced himself in favor of its repeal and the removal of the unjust tax on State banks; declared himself in favor of the repeal of the resumption act, and denounced the measure as unjust and oppressive to the business interests of the country; stated that he was in favor of the greenback or paper dollar being made a legal tender in every respect, and equal in value to a dollar in gold or silver. He gave in each instance convincing reason for his position upon these questions, and discussed them intelligently and forcibly.

He stated that for years the Southern Democrats had almost without exception taken the same view of these questions as himself, and that he had, in the newspapers and on the stump, advocated them years ago, and proved the assertion conclusively by reading extracts from some of the speeches delivered by him as far back as 1870.

He alluded to the organization of the Greenback party in this State, which he claimed had been done by emissaries sent out by the Republican party, in hopes of electing Congressmen by this dodge, and defeating the Democratic party, possibly, in the election of a President. He begged them to remain true to the Democratic party at this important juncture, and thus secure the enactment of measures essential to the peace and prosperity of the country.

He denounced the manner in which Hayes was placed in office in unmeasured terms, and reminded his hearers that the fraud successfully practiced on the people of the United States in that contest by the Republicans should not be lost sight of.

He stated that he was in favor of government aid to a Southern Pacific railroad, and showed how for years the Southern members of Congress had contented themselves in discussing hair-splitting constitutional questions, while those from the North went in for appropriations and got them.

In conclusion he pledged his best endeavors towards representing all the people of this District, of whatever class, color, or shade of political opinion, stated that he would canvass the District thoroughly, predicted his election "as usual" on the first Thursday in November, thanked his audience for their attention, and withdrew.

CURRITUCK COUNTY.

A Murderous Negro Kills a Woman—The Political Situation.

Correspondence of the News.

CURRITUCK C. H., Aug. 29.

Quite a tragedy occurred in this county a few days ago. A negro paramour shot and instantly killed his sable mistress, and then shot himself in the ear, and negro like, it did not kill him. He may recover in time to be hanged for murder. He is in charge of the Sheriff. I do not know the names of the parties.

Crops have greatly improved here, the prospects are that we will make nearly an average crop.

The political cauldron has not yet begun to bubble. The Congressional canvass will likely open next Monday, as our Court sits on that day. Now the nomination is made, our people are generally satisfied with the action of the Convention, and will stand by Maj. Yeates as in the past. This county gave a good majority in the August election, and if the other counties had done their duty, we would now be able to rejoice rather than moan over the defeat of our Senators and Solicitor. Maj. Yeates shall say in November next, "Well done old Currituck."

SOUTHERN FEVER TERRORS.

The New Orleans Doctors Abandon all Hope.

Special Dispatch to the New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.—At the meeting of the Board of Health tonight the origin of the epidemic was discussed, and from the data furnished it was plausibly argued that it could be traced to the ship Sounder. Dr. Choppin gave in full the result of his experiment with the ice-water spray. He believes the treatment to be eminently successful, although the patient operated upon is not expected to live, his kidneys having been inactive since Wednesday night. The Doctor attributes this to the fact that the man was in the last stages when brought to the hospital, and claims that if this treatment is pursued in the incipiency of the disease, it will always prove successful. The board discussed the progress of the epidemic, and the members were unanimous in the belief that it was utterly beyond human control, and would have to run its course. Unless some great and rare meteorological change takes place, the probability is strong that the city will be swept throughout.

A strange feature brought to light today by the comparative statistics of convalescent and fatal cases, was the fact that the mortality among the negroes attacked is nearly 60 per cent, so fatal indeed is the disease, that when a full blooded negro is seized he abandons hope at once. In illustrations of the extreme nervous prostration during the stage of convalesence, a young dy on St. Charles street already able to move about the house and was considered totally out of danger, was severely frigtened by a vivid flash of lightning this afternoon, relapsed into fever within an hour, and died with the black vomit this evening at 9 o'clock. Many of the best physicians in the city are now refusing to visit new cases, having their powers already taxed to the utmost. This situation of affairs is far from hopeful.

MEMPHIS IN A FRIGHTFUL STATE.

The scourge is increasing in virulence every moment. There is hardly a house in the city not entirely vacant which does not contain one or more persons down with the disease, or lying dead awaiting burial. The increase of the malady among the negro population to-day is frightful, while it does not seem to relinquish its hold upon the white people. Every hour in the day new victims are reported, and physicians go from house to house on the run. The county jail, which in 1873 was in the heart of the infected district, yet was free from the fever, now contains seven cases. The prisoners, numbering nearly 100, are now being removed to the Forrest Prison Farm, on President's Island, where they will be kept under a strong guard. The atmosphere is thick with the pestilential poison, and as the number of victims increases there is a corresponding increase in the alarm among the well ones who have thus far escaped, and large numbers are moving into the country, some preferring even to take up their abode in freight cars on the lines of the railways, rather than risk their lives here. There are plenty of thieves at work. Not a day or night passes that numbers of burglaries do not occur.

The Fourth District.

Wilson Advance.

Hon. J. J. Davis has been renominated. He is opposed by Joe Turner and Moses A. Bledsoe. Both of these gentlemen may be termed, under modern nomenclature, "Brindle-tails." This is the term applied by Mr. Turner to those who opposed the regular nominees. It is a cap of his own invention, which seems to fit him very well at present. Turner and Bledsoe are both bidding for the Radical vote. Turner calls on the negroes to help him purify the Democratic party. Bledsoe proclaims himself the champion of the poor. They are both demagogues, and it is our opinion that the Radicals will bring out Hargrove or Judge Reade just before the election. The Democrats of the District should be on their guard. The Rads are evidently hoping that Turner and Bledsoe will draw off enough Democrats for them to slip in their candidate. The only safe course for Democrats to pursue is to vote for that pure and honest statesman, Capt. Joe Davis. The Democratic majority is about 1,500, and with the confusion in the opposition ranks, we predict Capt. Davis' re-election by an increased majority.

Facetiæ.

A young lady was speaking to a friend, who had called upon her, regarding a trait characteristic of her mother, who she remarked, always had a good work to say of every one. "Why," said she, "I believe if Satan were discussed mother would have a good word to say about him." Just then the mother entered and was informed what the daughter had said, whereupon she quietly observed, "Well, my dear, I think we might all imitate Satan's perseverance."

"Pa," said a youthful rustic, rising from picking up apples and softly rubbing his back against a tree, "I ken do them sleight-hand p'formeuses; wen I grow up I'm a goin' ter be a prestidigitater." "H'm!" replied the parent, with vehement contempt; "you keep to work. 'Bout next month you'll be pressed to dig a tater up in the corner lot."

A Scotch clergyman has pointed out a remarkable misprint occurring in all editions of Shakespere's works and never before noticed, by which the bard is made to say: "Books in the running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything," when what he really said was undoubtedly "stones in the running brooks, sermons in books, and good in everything."

Butler (Benjamin F.) has left the Republican party, and this reminds us of the individual who was very sick, sending for a minister. The minister interrogated the sick man, and finally said: "My friend, you seem to be very near death's door, and likely to be called away at any moment. Are you willing to go?" "Yes," replied the sick man, "perfectly willing." Thank God," replied the minister, "all the neighbors are willing too."—Boonton, (N. J.) Bulletin.

Judge W. R. Cox.

Granville Free Lance.

Though this distinguished gentleman failed to secure the Congressional nomination at the Convention last week, yet both he and his friends have cause to be pround of the position he now occupies in the estimation of the people of this District. He went into the Convention strong—he retired from the contest tenfold stronger, and his patriotic speech that night, in response to enthusiastic calls, added still more to his enviable reputation.

With an unselfishness and patriotism only to be expected from a gentleman of his character, he cordially endorsed the action of the Convention, and, in burning words, pledged not only his own hearty support, but that of his friends, to the regular nominee of the party.

Under the circumstances his speech was, in many respects, particularly happy and felicitous, and it awakened a spirit of co-operation and earnest zeal in the minds of all his Democratic hearers, which cannot fail to bring forth abundant fruit in the approaching campaign.

In whatever station Judge Cox has been called to fill, he has ever proven himself equal to its demands, and his future career will not belie his past record.

"Jo."

Terboro Southerner.

Major Gales, in the Raleigh News, gives an erudite and amusing history of the name "Jo." It is an earnest of success, as a counterclaim, that Mr. Davis is also a Jo. He can say to J. Turner:

"I can na' let you in, Jo."

Gen. Gallatin Lawrence's Unhappy Domestic Relations—A Meeting at Which one Party Missed and the Other Fired in the Air

A despatch appeared in the Baltimore Gazette of a few days since, to the effect that rumors had reached Washington "of a duel fought in Germany by the husband of a fair American wife and her infatuated lover, who is Secretary of the German Legation to the United States." The despatch continues: "During the war Major-Gen. Lawrence of Rhode Island, an officer who gained some considerable distinction, had a Capt. Kingsbury on his staff. This officer was married shortly before the close of the war to a beautiful lady of Chicago, possessed of considerable wealth and of high and social position. The Captain was killed at Antietam not long after his marriage. It was a piece of army scandal at the time that the General had a very kind eye on the Captain's wife, and he married her within a year after her widowhood. The General's father was once Governor of Rhode Island, and his wife's grandfather was once on the United States Supreme Bench. The couple have been for some time in Europe. While there the lady became infatuated with the diplomat in question, and the General called him out. But one shot was fired. The German fired in the air, and the General missed his mark, for which piece of misfortune he was soon rewarded with the intelligence that Mrs. Lawrence had eloped with her foreign lover."

Inquiry in New York adds other details of this unhappy affair. Mrs. Lawrence has been for some time living in Paris. Some months since rumors reached her husband here of the alleged misconduct of his wife with the German attached referred to. Gen. Lawrence at once sailed for Europe and obtained trom the young German a written apology for certain matters complained of. He returned to this country, but discovered shortly after his arrival several letters, which, as charged, implicated his wife more seriously than he before had believed. Taking the first steamer for Havre he sent a challenge to the German immediately after reaching Paris. It was promptly accepted, and the meeting occurred with the results as given in the despatch.

It is asserted upon excellent authority that Mr. James Gordon Bennett of this city acted as second to Gen Lawrence in this affair.

Mrs. Lawrence is a daughter of Joseph Taylor, brother of Gen. Zach. Taylor, and is described by those who know her as a woman of unusual charms and accomplishments. Her first husband was Capt. Kingsbury, son of the great Chicago real estate owner, John Kingsbury. Capt. Kingsbury's sister married Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner of Confederate fame. When the war of the rebellion broke out, and Gen. Buckner went South, he feared that his property in the North would be confiscated, and to save it for his family, he transferred to his brother-in-law, Capt. Kinsbury, a large amount of valuable real estate which he owned in Chicago, most of it gained through his wife.

Capt. Kingsbury was killed at the battle of Antietam, and several months after his death his widow gave birth to a posthumous child, a son. It is explicitly denied by an army officer of high standing, conversant with all the facts through intimate personal knowledge of all the parties concerned, that there is any truth in the published statement to the effect that: "It was a piece of army scandal at the time that the General had a very kind eye on the Captain's wife and he married her within a year after her widowhood." It is asserted by this gentleman that Gen. Lawrence did not meet Mrs. Kinsbury at all until after the close of the war, when he formed her acquaintance in society at Newport.

After Capt. Kingsbury's death, his having made any will was for some time a matter of doubt, and it was believed that his large property, and with it the Buckner estate conveyed to him in trust, would pass by due course of law to his infant son. At length, however, Gen. Burnside discovered among his papers a document purporting to be the last will and testament of Capt. Kingsbury, which he then remembered had been given to him for safe keeping by that officer. Just before the battle of Antietam Capt. Kinsbury wrote out his will without the assistance of any one conversant with legal forms, and very naturally made the blunder of simply signing it, without having the signatures of any witnesses thereto. That was the paper given by him to Gen. Burnside. In it the right of the Buckner family to the share of the estate confided to him in trust was fully recognized, and that part of the property was reconveyed. But, as a will, the document was formally declared by the courts to be valueless. Gen. Buckner and his wife after the war brought suit to recover his property, and in the interest of Capt. Kingsbury's infant son the claim was contested by the guardians, either Gen. Burnside or Mr. Latrobe of Baltimore. The result of that suit was the declaration of the invalidity of the will and the affirmation of the right of inheritance, by the child, of all the estate of which Capt. Kingsbury died possessed. Some time afterward, however, Gen. Buckner found another ground for action. He then claimed that the property at stake was never absolutely conveyed by him to Capt. Kinsbury, but was simply put in his hands as a trust, and in evidence of this understanding cited Capt. Kingsbury will. Although that paper was valueless as a will, it was deemed by the Court conclusive proof of the fact of the conveyance in question, and an order was made appointing a commission to divide Capt. Kingsbury's estate into two equal parts, one of which should go to the infant son of the deceased and the other to Gen. Buckner. That order was made about the time of the great Chicago fire, and before the commission got to work its labors were greatly simplified by the fact that all the houses previously on the land were burned off, and they had only to make an equal division of the ground, a comparatively easy task. Prior to the fire the total value of the joined estates temporarily held for Capt. Kingsbury's heir was estimated at $1,000,000, but that, of course suffered a large reduction by the fire.

Gen. Gallatin Lawrence is a son of ex-Gov. Wm. Beach Lawrence of Rhode Island, the well known writer upon international law. He had studied law and obtained admission to the bar just before the war of the rebellion broke out. Abandoning the legal profession he entered the army, and won rapid promotion until, when finally compelled by disabling wounds to leave the service, he had attained the rank of Major General in the volunteer forces. When serving on the staff of Gen. Adalbert Ames, at Fort Fisher, he conducted himself with the most distinguished gallantry. Charging upon the parapet of the fort, far in advance of his men, cheering them on, and inspiriting them by his own example, he was struck down by three severe wounds. One, which threatened to be fatal, was in his neck. The two others were in his arms, and that in the left was so severe that amputation was necessary. The war was concluded before his slow convalescence was over.

He then received an appointment as Minister to Nicaragua, but before starting became involved in an affair with a member of the Foreign Legation in Washington. They quarrelled over what Gen. Lawrence deemed the other's improper behavior toward a lady—not Mrs. Lawrence—and fought a bloodless duel, both missing at the first fire, and neither demanding a second shot.

The ladies of the different denominations contemplate having a grand festival and dime party Thursday night on the grounds of the capitol. A more beautiful and lovely spot could not have been selected. A meeting will be held Monday evening at 5 'oclock at the First Presbyterian Sunday school room; committees will be appointed and all the necessary arrangements made. All members of the different churches who desire to participate in this grand enterprise for the relief of the yellow fever suffers are urgently requested to attend this meeting. For such a noble cause it is to be hoped each denomination will be well represented. Although the churches entertain different religious views, let it be known that when a calamity befalls any people, they are ready with heart and hand to unite and do their utmost to relieve the distressed.

The Romance and Reality of a Poor Young Man.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., July 19, 1878.

The undersigned certifies that he held for collection for account of J. M. A Voice From Japan.

From the Tokio, Japan, Times, June 8, 1878.

Messrs. Fairbanks & Co., manufactures of scales for the world in general, have circulated in America the fac simile of a certificate in the Siamese language and character, showing that their wares have been for many years in use at the Custom House of Bankok, and have not only given constant satisfaction, but have occasioned surprise by their durability and unchanging accuracy. This does not seem so remarkable a testimonial in the East as it possibly may be at home.

If Messrs. Fairbanks & Co., had any desire so obtain similar antographic assurance, from all the States in Asia where trade is carried on, they could do so without difficulty. No custom house in China, we believe, and certainly none in Japan, is without a supply of them; and in all official departments where the use of scales is requisite, these alone are relied upon. The quaint Siamese chirography may have plenty of companion curiosities whenever it suits the parties concerned to send for them. *

The Downfall of the Khedive.

N. Y. Times.

Late cable dispatches from Egypt are to the effect that the Khedive has accepted a proposition whereby Nubar Pasha becomes President of the Council and Mr. Rivers Wilson Minister of Finance. The Khedive and his family are to restore all their land to the State, and a compr hensive scheme for the reform of administration, including large retrenchments in the civil list, are to be decreed.

The Oriental Prince who has thus been dispossessed of the reins of Egyptian administration, which he has held so long, is the most striking individuality in the modern history of that country. Born at Cairo in 1830, he inherited all the inexhaustible energy of his grandfather Mehemet, without the sterner qualities of his father Ibraham. An excellent European education, combined with real ability, soon made him the most prominent figure in Egyptian society, and quickly excited the jealousy of Abbas Pasha, who had then recently succeeded to the Viceroyalty. He became especially obnoxious to that indolent but vicious bigot, who accordingly endeavored to crush him, fabricating against him a charge of murder, which failed. On the accession of Said Pasha in 1854, Ismail was sent to Paris and to Rome on special missions, and afterward acted as Regent during his uncle's pilgrimage to Mecca, in 1861, and his visit to Europe, later in the same year. Said died January 18, 1863, and the destinies of Egypt passed into the hands of the Prince who has since so enormously increased both her trade and her debt. On the morrow of his accession he promised an improved and liberalized administration and the energetic promotion of the national interests of the country, in which particulars he failed utterly to keep his word. Indefatigable energy, considerable administrative ability, and the reputation of being the wealthiest Prince living, did not prevent him piling up a debt which now smothers his country's credit. His zeal for fame rather than for actual material progress carried him further and faster than the resources of the country could profitably bear. Parks were laid out, waste places were made to bloom, canals and railroads and telegraph lines were built, and these expenditures, supplemented by the demands made upon the Khedive by the Turkish authorities, and the large disbursements for the Suez Canal, gradually swelled the small debt legacy left by Said into its present bloated proportions.

Active as has been the Khedive, apparently, in internal improvements, his life has been really that of a modern Sardanapalus. If he spent money on public parks and waste places, it was to make his capital attractive and bring rich Americans and toadying Englishmen to do him homage. He wasted in idle display and profligate extravagance the resources of his country. His only conception of finance was to go to the Jews whenever he wanted money, and pay them whatever interest they insisted upon. He built a grand opera house and brought out new operas, a single one of which cost him $100,000. He saw a handsome woman in the market-place and bought her for $45,000, thus showing his contempt of the law forbidding a traffic in slaves. Only a thin veneer of civilization hid the craft and cruelty of an Oriental despotism. Many mistresses call him master; his home was in several palaces. Some of these palaces were often the scene of unlicensed mirth and mischief. Dinners and concerts were numerous, to which only foreign ladies were invited. Italian opera singers and belles from France and England jostled the eunuchs and the slaves as they hurried through the halls to the receptions. His crowning act of infamy was during the late war. Disregarding his professed civilization and the proper attitude of neutrals, he dragged his unfortunate subjects into war, and sent his soldiers from the tropics of Africa to perish miserably in the frosts and snows of Bulgaria.

Professedly the richest man in the world, the personal owner of a great part of his own dominions, he was a deception in this as in all other things. The report of the first commission sent out by England in 1875 showed him to be a poor man possessed of a large but very heavily incumbered estate. He then owned 350,000 acres of good land and 100,000 acres of poor land, or about one tenth of the cultivated soil of Egypt, yielding to him over two million of dollars a year—a very noble estate if it were only clear. But the Khedive then owed $25,000,000 on this estate at 10 per cent. per annum, besides a floating debt at enormous interest, and was therefore a loser on his whole property. The Suez Canal, from which so much was expected, proved to be a dreadful tax on the country. As the Khedive's embarrassment increased he was compelled to sell his shares in the canal for ready money. Seventy-five years hence the canal and all its works lapse to the Egyptian Government, but meanwhile its existence directly diminishes Egyptian revenues. The railways and the ports suffer heavily by the loss of the overland trade; and the money paid for canal dues goes to the shareholders who are living in Europe. Of the $87,500,000 the Khedive sunk in this canal, he has only received back $20,000,000 from England. But what was four million pounds to so reckless and extravagant a Prince? He was soon not only rid of the money but deeper in debt than ever.

This man is dethroned, and Nubar Pasha reigns, in fact if not in name. This return to power of a Minister who was removed three years ago because he insisted too strongly upon reforms will be welcome news to all who are interested in the welfare of Egypt. He is a Christian, and so, of course, not acceptable to the old Turkish party; he is a reformer, and so not acceptable to the Viceroy's party; but he cares for neither, and although an Armenian by origin, he is Western in all his ideas, and versed in European politics and modern finances. In this latter particular, however, he will be ably assisted by Mr. Wilson, who was some time Controller-General of the National Debt Department of Great Britain. But in Nubar Pasha's advancement we see British intrigues and a lessening of the moral objection to the policy of England's annexing Egypt.

By every consideration of profit and propriety, the blood should be kept absolutely pure by using Dr. Bull's Blood Mixture.

The business portion of the village of Fremont, N. C., was burned. Cause, kerosene oil, which exploded while being drawn from a barrel. Daily News, July 22nd, 1878.

Bledsoe and Turner on the Canvass.

The Wilson Advance furnishes a brief but interesting account of the discussion in Nash between the Hon. Joseph J. Davis and M. A. Bledsoe, Esq., from which it appears that "Moses" was terribly scorched.

We confess ourselves at a loss to discover the tactics of the "would have been" Wake Senator. He is announced as a candidate for Congress, subject to the decision of a Republican Convention or of the Republican Committee, and yet he declares that there is no difference between the two parties. He avows himself for soft money all over, and yet he will not say whether he will or will not support Blaine, (the hardest money man of that class of Eastern sharpers,) in the event of his nomination for the Presidency. He abuses the Electoral Commission, thereby inferentially admitting that Mr. Tilden was cheated out of the Presidency, and yet he wants a Republican nomination. He denounces Conventions, and yet, as it is understood, he is willing to submit his claims to one. The fact is that "Moses" is emphatically "in the wilderness." He is trying to ride both sides of the political sapling. He is endeavoring to run with the hare and hold with the hounds. His position is not unlike the dilemma of the Satan of Milton, who cried so bitterly

"Me miserable! whither shall I fly?"

Judging from the manner in which Mr. Bledsoe was received in Nash, and, as we learn, in Johnston, he has'nt "flop enough" to fly anywhere, and we don't know but that we might as well dismiss him for the nouce—not, however, until we make room for the following from the Advance:

"Mr. Bledsoe was understood to impugn the firmness and nerve of Mr Davis, as a member of Congress, when that gentleman promptly mounted the stand and appealed to the old battle-scarred veterans of companies A and D of the 47th Regiment, who had braved with him the dangers of the battle-field, and asked them if he showed any cowardly streaks in those times that tried men's souls, and, turning to Maj. Bledsoe, asked him where he was in those trying times; when a shout of applause for Capt. Davis went up from his old comrades, which carried a stinging rebuke to Maj. Bledsoe for his unwarrantable presumption."

Mr. Turner was not present at the Nash discussion, but met Mr. Davis in Johnston. We have had no particulars of the debate, but are reliably informed that he made no impression. While many Democrats there and elsewhere express kind feelings for him, in view of past services, they feel that his later and present course have annulled all obligations. They realize that a vote cast for him is virtually, as matters stand, a vote against the Democratic party,—a feeling that will be more intensified still when a Radical candidate is brought into the field, as, we believe, will be the case. (On dit, that Hargrove, of Granville, the man who, according to Turner, "pented himself," is the "coming man.") If, however, we should be mistaken, and Mr. Turner should so far prosper in his desperate wooing of the negroes as to get an endorsement at their hands, there is not a Democrat in the District who will be found so recreant as to fall into his support.

We close, then, the first week of the canvass, with a feeling of sincere satisfaction at the outlook. Mr. Davis has commenced his campaign with energy, ability and resolution. Courteous, yet firm and aggressive,—dignified, yet fearless and unyielding,—he will carry himself throughout in a manner that will equal the highest expectations of his friends, and to the confusion of his opponents,—whether straights, mongrels or brindle-tails!

Patterson's Patent Pedal Performance.

Patterson, the carpet-bag United States Senator from South Carolina, introduced a remarkable bill at the last session of Congress, which has never, as yet, to our knowledge, had any mention. We do not exaggerate when we say that it read thus:

"Be it enacted, etc., That an appropriation be made, the same as a reward, for the American citizen who shall invent a new foot measure that shall divulge, in it, the meeting of parallel lines at distances of exceeding great length."

Whether the ignoramus was imposed upon by some one, or not, we do not know, but such was the bill, which was printed, and is now on the calendar of the Senate.

We institute the following queries: What is meant by a "foot-measure?"—that which measures a foot, or the foot which measures? If it measures a foot, what is the foot so measured? Is it the foot of weight, which, according to Knickerbocker's New York, was light when the Dutchman sold and heavy when he bought? If it is the foot of length, then we must observe that some feet wear shoes No. ½, while, according to the Chicago papers, the female foot of St. Louis requires somewhat larger numbers, and a Texas youth is reported as cutting the pigeon wing in No. 24's. The foot, too, that belongs to some of Patterson's constituents is said to have breadth and thickness, as well as length.

If this "foot" is the old thing that used to worry our arithmetic days,—made up of twelve inches, and each inch of three barley-corns, (before being distilled,)—in what sense is it to be new?

"Parallel lines?" Which definition of these lines shall we use? Are they "straight lines, which, although on the same plane, never meet?" Or are they "lines which have the same direction?" The adoption of either of these definitions involves us in one of the notable "quarrels of the mathematicians," and all legislation ought to be lucid, that it afford not maintenance to hungry lawyers and so deprive the American citizen, "without race, color, or previous condition of servitude," of his "appropriation,"—whether of lands, thanks, money or Congressional Reports, is not stated!

Seriously, is it not incredible that such an absurdity should have been gravely presented for the consideration of the Senate of the United States?

Ourselves.

The NEWS to-day enters upon its fourteenth volume. The occasion is an appropriate one to express our appreciation of the generous patronage by which it has been sustained, and to say a few words as to its future. At no previous period of its history have its prospects been more encouraging—at no former time has it been the recipient of more flattering testimonials of approval and support. For these we desire to make profound and grateful acknowledgment.

Our aim shall be to make the NEWS more than ever worthy of the public confidence and more fully equal to the requirements and enterprize of the times. We shall lose no opportunity and spare no reasonable expense to keep pace with the active spirit of American journalism and to furnish a paper that shall commend itself by its energy, its variety, and, above, all by its tone. Having assisted to fight the hardest battles of the Democracy in the days of trial and of despondency, we need give no pledge of future fidelity, now that its triumphs, already partially won, are so well-nigh fully assured. We shall know no abatement of zealous effort to enable that party to carry out all its pledges, to assure to it the fruits of well-earned victory and to advance it to yet higher planes of patriotic duty and usefulness. During the present Congressional campaign, especially, upon the issues of which depend such vital consequences to the State and country, we hope to bear a strong hand in the work of Democratic aggression, unity and success.

With these few words, we salute our readers.

Mr. Gladstone has written an able paper for the North American Review on the "Analogies and Differences between the American and British Constitutions." Incidentally, he refers to the facility with which, after our late civil war, the soldier was converted into the citizen, in the following striking passage:

"The innumerable soldiery was at once dissolved. Cincinnatus, no longer a unique example, became the commonplace of every day, the type and mould of a nation. The whole enormous mass quietly resumed the habits of social life. The Generals of yesterday were the editors, the secretaries and the solicitors of to-day. The just jealousy of the State gave life to the now forgotten maxim of Judge Blackstone, who denounced as perilous the erection of a separate profession of arms in a free country. The standing army, expanded by the heat of civil contest to gigantic dimensions, settled down again into the framework of a miniature with the returning temperature of civil life, and became a power well-nigh invisible from its minuteness, amid the powers which sway the movements of a society exceeding forty millions."

The late Sargent S. Prentiss,—the most brilliant orator, in our judgment, that the century has produced,—illustrated the same facility, just after the close of the Mexican war, by the following beautiful metaphor: "Thus," said he, "the dark thunder cloud, at Nature's summons, marshals its black battalions and lowers upon the horizon, until, at length, its mission spent, its dread artillery silenced, it melts away into the blue ether, and the next morning you may find it impearling the verdant mead or glittering in the dew-drops which the sad night hath wept!"

The Atlanta Republican, the leading Radical paper in Georgia, says: "In the present weakened and dispirited condition of our own 'forces,' about all we can do in Georgia is to encourage the independent movement that is surely disintegrating the Democratic vote of the State, and that promises speedily to give us the balance of power. Our support will be sought, and we shall be able to exact terms from those seeking it, and in part recover, and later, may be, fully recover what we have lost in the last ten years."

This is precisely the strategy of the Radical party in North Carolina, and the man is as blind as a mole or a bat who does not see it. Their support is sought by such men as Turner and Bledsoe and they will be able to "exact terms" from both.

We admire the refreshing boldness of the Republican in claiming that, by the policy indicated, the Radicals can, if it is successful, "recover what they have lost," and, we may add, what the country and the people and good government have gained. But it tells the truth, nevertheless, and we ask the Democrats of North Carolina, and especially of this Congressional District, to mark its utterances and profit by them accordingly.

Ex-Senator Matthew H. Carpenter, of Wisconsin, who, it is believed, desires to return to public life, finds himself embarrassed by the fact that he was of the counsel on the democratic side, in the Louisiana matter, before the Electoral Commission. He has accordingly published a letter in the Chicago papers taking the ground that he acted in a mere professional capacity, without prejudice to his political opinions or associations. He also compares his action in the Louisiana case with the action of Mr. Evarts in the notorious Beecher-Tilton trial. His implied view of the professional position of a lawyer invites consideration.

We do not know what may be the ethics of the legal fraternity, but we hold that a respectable lawyer, as a matter of principle, ought not to lend his profes ional services to any cause the justice of which he sincerely questions.

A Tennessee postmaster, who fears that he has incurred the fatal displeasure of the Postmaster General by refusing to contribute to the Republican campaign fund, was interviewed the other day by a newspaper reporter. "And you fear the sword of Damocles, do you?" said the reporter. "Thunder, no! it's not the sword of Damocles—it's d—d old Key's ax that I'm afraid of."

We shall be under great obligations to any friends at the various points where the Congressional candidates speak, who will send us brief accounts of the discussions.

We are sorry to learn, as we do from the Washington Star, that Solicitor-General Phillips is very sick at his residence in Washington.

VEGETINE.

FOR

Dropsy.

I never shall

FORGET THE FIRST DOSE.

PROVIDENCE.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir,—I have been a great sufferer from dropsy. I was confined to my house more than a year. Six months of the time I was entirely helpless. I was obliged to have two men help me in and out of bed. I was swollen 19 inches larger than my natural size around my waist. I suffered as a man could and live. I tried all remedies for Dropsy: I had three different doctors. My friends all expected I would die; many nights I was expected to die before morning. At last Vegetine was sent me by a friend. I never shall forget the first dose. I could realize its good effects from day to day; I was getting better. After I had taken some 5 or 6 bottles I could sleep quite well nights. I began to gain now quite fast. After taking some 10 bottles, I could walk from one part of my room to the other. My appetite was good: the dropsy had at this time disappeared. I kept taking the Vegetine until I regained my usual health. I heard of a great many cures by using Vegetine after I got out and was able to attend to my work. I am a carpenter and builder. I will also say it has cured an aunt of my wife's of Neuralgia, who had suffered for more than 20 years. She says she has not had any neuralgia for eight months. I have given it to one of my children for Canker Humor. I have no doubt in my mind it will cure any humor; it is a great cleanser of the blood; it is safe to give a child. I will recommend it to the world. My father is 80 years old, and he says there is nothing like it to give strength and life to an aged person. I cannot be too thankful for the use of it. I am,

Very grateful yours,

JOHN S. NOTTAGE.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.—If Vegetine will relieve pain; cleanse, purify, and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies and suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof. If you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

NEWPORT, KY., Apr. 29, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—Having suffered from a breaking out of Cankerous Sores for more than five years, caused by an accident of a fractured bone, which fracture ran into a running sore, and have used every thing I could think of and nothing helped me, until I had taken six bottles of your valuable medicine which Mr. Miller the apothecary recommended very highly. The sixth bottle cured me, and all I can say, is that I owe my health to your valuable Vegetine.

Your most obedient servant,

ALBERT VON ROEDER.

"It is unnecessary for me to enumerate the diseases for which the Vegetine should be used, I known of no disease which will not admit of its use, with good results. Almost innumerable complaints are caused by poisonous secretions in the blood, which can be entirely expelled from the system by the use of the Vegetine. When the blood is perfectly cleansed, the disease rapidly yields all pains cease; healthy action is promptly restored, and the patient is cured.

HOME REMEDY.

THE MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

A CERTAIN AND SPEEDY

CURE FOR SCROFULA.

FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS!

The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and cost an advertisement:

"Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing Scrofula with Mrs. Person's father. Mrs. Person lives at Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs. Person, and it had the scrofula. The doctors gave it up to die. She thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the herb, got the whisky, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives well and hearty. More than this: Only a few months since a South Carolinian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scrofulous affection on the heel. He had been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Nothing did him any good. At Kittrell's they told him of Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. —— wrote to Mrs. Person if she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the South Carolinian sent her word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent him directions what to do, and added if they cured him he could send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ask five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shortly afterward sent Mrs. Person a check for twenty-five dollars, and wrote the most grateful letter he knew how. Bless those old Indians! We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

LOUISBURG, N. C., May 22, 1878.

MRS. JOE PERSON:

The medicine I purchased of you last winter proved of lasting benefit to my son. He was troubled with twenty-seven running sores, some of them quite large, and of a Scrofulous nature. In less than three weeks after commencing the use of your Remedy he was perfectly restored, and is to-day quite well and healthy. AS A TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER IT HAS NO EQUAL. Hoping that you may be spared for many years of usefulness, I remain,

Very Respectfully,

T. J. STOKES.

For my personal reliability, I refer, by permission to Rt. Rev. Thos. Atkinson, D. D., North Carolina; Geo. A. Foote, M. D., Warren, Co.; Hons. J. J. Davis and C. M. Cooke, Franklin Co.

The above medicine is for sale by Pescud, Lee & Co., Wm. Simpson, and F. H. Heartt, Druggists Raleigh, N. C. or it may be ordered direct from me. For further information, enclose stamp for Circulars to

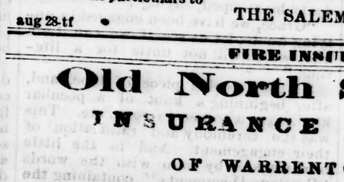
HEGE'S IMPROVED CIRCULAR SAW MILL

CIRCULAR SAW MILL. LEVER FEED CUTTER.



Hege's Improved Circular Saw Mill, is no new and untried saw mill, but is one that is well and favorably known in many sections, and wherever it is introduced it is fast superceding all others. It is simple in construction, yet reliable in operation, and is sold for less than any similar first class saw mill. Send for descriptive circular

Lever Feed Cutter,

Is something entirely new and novel in the feed cutter line. With this cutter the feed is cut off diagonally, instead of square across, as is the case with all other cutters at the same time our cutter has a draw cut, acting exactly on the same principle that a knife is used in cutting off a stick, consequently with our Diagonal Feed Cutter we can cut more feed with less labor in a given time than any other cutter costing twice as much.

Price reduced to $8,00. Send for circular. Liberal discount to agents. No goods consigned. Manufactured by the Salem Agricultural Works, Salem, N. C.

For South Atlantic States partly cloudy weather, occasional rain; variable winds, mostly southerly, and stationary or higher pressure.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——The summer is now a thing of the past.

——The graded school begins its term to-morrow.

——The Superior Court had an all night session Friday night.

——The rain it raineth every day,
And nearly washeth us all away.

——A number of merchants leave for the North on Monday, to provide fall stocks.

——Figs have made their appearance in market, but are poor in flavor and small in quantity.

——Mr. A. P. C. Bryan sent on $5, collected in his mite chest, to the yellow fever sufferers.

——Scuppernongs are now exposed for sale, but as yet are of but small worth, as they are quite green.

——The granite culvert at the market proves to be a decided improvement, both as to durability and convenience.

——The total number of instruments admitted to registration in the office of Register Deeds, during the month of August was 87.

——A bad citizens, who was drunk in the market, was given ample time in the guard house to reflect upon his misdeeds.

——Letters addressed to James B. Libby, 55 and 57 White street, but not stating the city; and to John Gray Sanders, City, having no stamp; are held at the post office.

——Parties desiring to join the whittling club are requested to leave their names with Dr. Geo. W. Blacknall, at once, as no entries will be made after Wednesday.

The New Pastor.

Rev. John S. Watkins, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will occupy his pulpit at 11 a. m. and 8.15 p. m., to-day.

The Temperature.

Temperature yesterday, as indicated by the thermometer at Tucker's store:

6 a. m.,	75°	2 p. m.,	80°
10 "	82°	6 "	75°

Correction.

Dr. J. McCallum was elected by the Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society Superintendent of the Fair and not the Fair Grounds, as reported. The latter position is already filled.

Health of the City.

During the summer there have been reported to the Raleigh Academy of Medicine only seven cases of typhoid fever, after due inquiry by that body. This shows a remarkably good state of health.

Oakwood Cemetery.

During the month of August there was only one interment in this cemetery. This was of a female infant.

Mr. A. B. Forrest, Superintendent of the cemetery, leaves on Monday for his former home in Pennsylvania.

Death of Col. George.

The death of Colonel Forney George, well known in political circles, is announced as having occurred at Cleaveland Springs on Friday. Col. George was a prominent citizen of Columbus county, which he represented in the Convention. He had been in feeble health for sometime and sought the springs in search of health.

Another Clothing House.

Mr. A. H. Baker has, within a few days opened a clothing store in the commodious quarters formerly occupied by J. M. Monie, on Fayetteville street, near Hargett. A large stock of clothing, of all grades and prices, is displayed, and the new establishment will compete boldly for public favor. Mr. Baker will continue his grocery store on Wilmington street.

A New Hotel Projected.

A plan is on foot among some capitalists of the State to erect a magnificent hotel at Beaufort immediately on the breezy banks. The house is to be in charge of that capital hotelist, Dr. G. W. Blacknall, than whom no better manager could be chosen. The many visitors to Beaufort hope the plan may prove a thing certain.

Why is This Thus?

On inquiry at the postoffice, information was given that no mails are sent North via Greensboro, and that a letter mailed after 10 a. m. on Saturday, for any Northern point, does not leave here until Monday morning. The simple fact is given, comment being totally unnecessary. If this be what is termed mail facilities, heaven save the mark!

A Complete Establishment.

Mr. P. R. Uzzle, who has a grocery store on Fayetteville street, opposite the market, has made large additions to his fine stock of goods in that line. He has now one of the most complete establishments in the city, and is the recipient of a large custom.

The Raleigh Minstrels.

The Franklin Courier says: While in Raleigh last week, it was our pleasure to attend the performance of the Select Minstrel troupe, recently gotten up in that city. The troupe is composed entirely of young, respectable gentlemen of the city, and would do credit to any city. With the short time they have practiced, it very evidently shows that they possess talents. The largest crowd that ever was in Tucker Hall to witness a Ministrel troupe, we think, was there to show their appreciation to and encourage the efforts of the Raleigh boys. We see from the Raleigh papers that they intend soon to repeat the performance, for the benefit of the Yellow Fever sufferers.

Interesting Law Case.

The case of Fowle and Vick vs. Kerchner et als., in the Superior Court, has excited great attention. The speeches of counsel have been marked by ability of a very high order. Messrs. Ed. Graham Haywood, Geo. H. Snow and T. C. Fuller appeared for Fowle & Vick, and Messrs. Gilliam & Gatling, J. W. Hinsdale and R. C. Badger, for Kerchner et als.

Personals.

Col. Thomas M. Holt, of Haw River, is at the Yarbrough.

W. T. Blackwell, Esq., of Durham, is in the city.

Mr. Hugh Morson, who will on Monday, with Capt. Fray, open the Lovejoy school, arrived in the city yesterday.

Maj. R. S. Tucker and wife have returned from New York. Col. W. H. Tucker and Misses Maggie, Florence and Lula have all come back from their foreign tour and are now in New York.

The First Bale.

The first bale of cotton made its appearance yesterday. It was brought in by Mr John J Barnes, of Johnston county. The weight of the bale was 410 pounds, and it was graded as low middling. The bale was disposed of at auction, J. J. Litchford, Esq., presiding as auctioneer. It was finally purchased by Col Paul Faision, at eleven and five eight cents. Johnston is not in the lead on cotton this season, as New Hanover and Mecklenburg are both ahead.

Mayor's Court.

The negro boy who stole the matches from the store of Mr. J. C. S. Lumsden, was turned over to the tender mercies of his stern parent, who thrashed him in the guard house, to within an inch of his life.

Two negro lads were also turned over to their parents; one was taken in charge by his mama, the other by his papa; and both were soundly drubbed.

Two white men, who had engaged in a fisticuff, were released, upon payment of costs, after swearing eternal friendship.

An Opium-Eater as Nurse.

The New Orleans Democrat says that the latest proffer to nurse the sick comes from a man in North Carolina who offers his services gratuitously, for otherwise his life is being wasted. He is an opium eater, he avows, which, instead of incapacitating him for the arduous duties of attending upon the sick, on the contrary enhances his value; for, he says, all doctors will agree with him that his habit gives him immunity from the disease. The application has the quality of disinterestedness, for the writer wants no compensation.

His First Speech Here.

That blatant demagogue, M. A. Bledsoe, exhibited himself and displayed his eloquence to the smallest of small audiences, in front of the Court House last evening. In his usual vindictive style, he denounced all men but himself, all measures but his own. The greater portion of his remarks were addressed to Josiah Turner, and were the reverse of complimentary. It need not be said that the speech excited particular attention or produced any marked effect, for all know Josiah and his ways.

Fray and Morson's School.

The building known for long years as Lovejoy's schoolhouse has been leased by the above named gentlemen, and has been, by the addition of new furniture and sundry improvements, properly prepared for the reception of pupils. The session begins to-morrow. It is the desire of the principals that pupils be present on the opening day, if possible. These gentlemen are teachers of large experience and great capacity as instructors. The first has for many years taught in this county, and has a wide reputation. While Mr. Morson is not so well known, he comes with the highest commendations. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia, and afterwards taught at the Hillsboro Military Academy, and more recently at the Raleigh School.

Contributions for the Yellow Fever Sufferers.

Governor Vance yesterday was sent $9, contributed by some citizens at Madison, Rockingham county, for this noble object. The amount was duly forwarded.

At Glen Alpine Springs the young ladies and gentlemen gave a series of tableaux and charades, under the management of Mrs. Judge Baker, of Florida, formerly of Fayetteville. The affair was gotten up at the suggestion of Rev. E. R. Rich, of this city, one of the guests. The entertainment proved delightful. At its conclusion a collection was taken up, when the sum of $26.35 was given. Rev. Mr. Rich brought this down with him, gave it to Mayor Manly, who forwarded it yesterday.

The fine oleander, so generously donated by Mr. J. Rosenbaum to be sold for this purpose, was disposed of at auction yesterday. It was bought at last by Captain J. J. Thomas, bringing the sum of $16.50. This will be sent, through Mr. A. P. Bryan to Memphis.

The Next State Fair.

Donations to the N. C. Agricultural Society for the Premium List of the 18th annual Fair, Oct. 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 next.

(Acknowledged by C. B. Denson, Secretary, in behalf of the Executive Committee.)

One ledger, handsomely bound, $25, given by John Armstrong, Esq., Book and Job Printer, Raleigh, N. C.

The specimen of Mr. Armstrong's fine handiwork was much admired, and this premium is well worth securing.

Two hives of bees, stocked with one hundred pounds each of honey and comb for the support of the hive until the next season, $20; given by Rev. D. P. Meacham Apiarian, Raleigh, N. C. Rev. Mr. Meacham is as well known as any gentleman in Central North Carolina for his fine honey and unwearied attention to bee culture. This is an important interest to North Carolina and needs far greater development.

One selection of fancy woolen goods, in cardinal red, blue, and fancy stripes, given by R. Holt, Manhattan Mills, Paterson, N. J. We were indebted to this liberal firm for a very acceptable donation last year. Mr. H. writes, that he does not think anything in the trade in New York can excel the beauty of these goods.

Eight barrels of Standard Phosphate, given by Lister Bros. Newark, N J. Fertilizers are gladly welcomed, as they supply us with premiums that are highly appreciated by the farmer. This handsome contribution goes to the field crops.

W. F. Pace, Esq.

The law card of this estimable gentleman and excellent lawyer appears among the advertisements. Mr. Pace's careful attention to all claims has won for him a fine reputation, while his promptness in all cases is noteworthy. He devotes time and close attention to his profession.

Died.

In Danville, Va., August 27, 1878, Emma Edward, only daughter of Frank S. Woodson, Esq.

Internal Revenue Notes

The collections at the Office of Col. I. J. Young, collector of this District, for the week past were as follows:

Monday,	$ 1,818.59
Tuesday,	1,159.46
Wednesday,	952.14
Thursday,	960,10.
Friday,	10,496.87
Saturday,	11,988.42
Total,	$ 27,375.57.

The total collections for the month of August were $99,423.75. This is the largest amount but one ever collected during any month since Col. Young's collectorship. The great tobacconists. W. T. Blackwell &c., of Durham, alone paid $60,000 of this great sum.

Collector Young states that a man by the name of Bumpass has been calling on some business men here, and, assuming to be a revenue official, has demanded a look at their snuff and tobaccos. He is a pretender, and has fled the city. If the collector is so fortunate as to lay his hands upon him he will rue the day. He says that the real officials get blame enough and are bad enough, and doesn't wish the service brought into worse repute by such impostors.

Meeting of the Republican Executive Committee.

Colonel Guthrie, of Chapel Hill sent to this city yesterday the call for a meeting of the committee of which he is chairman, a copy of which call has been furnished us as follows:

To the Republican Executive Committee of the Fourth District of North Carolina:

A meeting of the Republican Executive Committee for the Fourth District of North Carolina will be held in the city of Raleigh, at 12 m., on Tuesday, September 10th, 1878, for the purpose of considering what action shall be taken in relation to the selection of a candidate to represent the district in the Forty-Sixth Congress. A full attendance is requested.

H. B. GUTHRIE,
Chairman Republican Executive Committee, Fourth District North Carolina.

Removal.

Messrs. Cooke & Wainright, two of the most enegetic Martin street merchants, yesterday occupied their new ware house on Martin between Wilmington and Blount streets. They will keep on hand a full supply of articles of farm use, and will continue to do a large business in that class of goods. Attention is called to the local advertisement of the firm in this issue.

Market Report.

Mr. C. B. Fowler, Keeper of the Metropolitan Market, reports the following as having been exposed for sale the past week: Beef, 10,489 lbs.; mutton, 2,555 lbs.; pork, 1,200 lbs. Fish have been scarce, on account of the wet weather. Vegetables have been in but small quantities. Melons are becoming quite scarce. The meats on sale have been of good quality, and none have been condemned. Eggs and chickens are unchanged in price from last week's quotations.

Attention Rescue Co.

The Regular monthly meeting of your company will be held at Rescue Hall on Monday night, Sept. 2nd at 8 o'clock sharp,

The Old Dominion.

Virginia, the Mother of the States, produces many choice things and rare, but among the finest of the thousand products of her fertile soil is tobacco. Known all over the world as the finest, the tobaccos of that State are ever in demand. Aware of their excellence, the manufacturers of Egerton's Snuff use only Old Dominion Tobacco, the purest and best. The agent for this solace here is Mr. W. H. Dodd, corner Wilmington and Martin streets. *

The Useful and the Beautiful.

The two necessary qualities are both combined in the china, glass and silver ware now on exhibition at Law's elegant establishment, Fayetteville street. With these attractions is combined unusual cheapness. While the appearance of the goods charms the eye, the remarkably low prices prove equally attractive to buyers. *

Fall Wheat.

Agriculturalists are always in do ubt as to whether wheat planted in the fall or spring yields the greater results. In this climate and soil, with proper attention, fall wheat produces a good yield. In this case, however, much depends upon the fertilizer used, and this is a almost paramount consideration among the various fertilizers on sale, the Arlington guano has been proved by use to be the most suitable for fall wheat. This excellent fertilizer is on sale at the store of Cooke & Wainright, Martin, between Wilmington and Blount streets. *

Ninety-eight new Home Sewing Machines sold from J. L. Stone's office during the last four months. This shows business for the hard times. *

Good Living.

With a carefully selected and well kept up stock of first-class family groceries, I am at all times prepared to offer good living to those who appreciate the luxury of fresh family groceries, at the lowest cash prices. J. P. PRITCHARD, JR., corner Salisbury and Hillsboro Streets. *

In order to reduce our stock and make room for Fall stock we will sell fine walnut dressing, case suits, parlor suits, side-boards and hat racks at cost for thirty days. Persons buying and paying the cash we will keep furniture in store until October 1st. Now is the time to get bargains, we mean business. Call and examine for yourselves. W. H. Morris & Co. *

Partnership.

Having withdrawn from the late firm of Barbee & Latta, I have associated myself in business with Rand & Barbee, wholesale grocers and commission merchants, and take this occasion to return thanks to my old friends and customers for their past liberal patronage, and hope to see them at my new place of business. Respectfully,

E. B. BARBEE.

The style of the firm will be Rand & Barbee Bros.

He uses nothing except the best material. J. C. BREWSTER,

A Tried Remedy for Biliousness

Those who suffer from disorder or inaction of the liver will never get the upper hand of the unruly organ so long as they use such irrational remedies as the pill, calomel and podophyllin. But from the tried and popular medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, they may expect relief with a certainty of obtaining it. The influence of the bitters upon the great biliary gland is direct, powerful and speedily felt. The relief afforded is not spasmodic, but complete and permanent. The sallowness of the skin, furred appearance of the tongue, indigestion, costiveness, headache, nausea, pains through the right side and shoulder, in fact every accompaniment of the obstinate complaint are entirely and promptly removed by a course of this inestimable medicine, in behalf of which testimony is constantly emanating from every quarter and from all classes of society.

JONES' BAKING POWDER

FOR SALE BY ALL GROCERS.

We ask all cooks, housewives, and the general public to give our goods an impartial trial. This Powder is carefully prepared upon scientific principles—the result of long and careful experiments and tests in chemistry. In its proportions and compounding, it is the perfection of science, and is recommended by the leading Chemists in the United States, whose certificates we have. It is perfectly pure and wholesome, and saves time, labor and money to every consumer. It stands unrivaled; we challenge the world to produce better, purer or more wholesome goods.

REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE USED:

A BARREL OF FLOUR MAKES ABOUT 40 POUNDS MORE BREAD
IT NEVER FAILS AND ALWAYS PLEASES THE CONSUMER.
IT IS THE PERFECTION OF SCIENCE IN COOKERY.
IT IS A COMFORT FOR EVERY HOME.
YOUR BREAD WILL NEVER BE SOUR.
YOUR FOOD WILL BE THE BEST.
YOUR BREAD WILL BE WHITER AND RICHER.
YOUR HEALTH WILL BE PRESERVED BY ITS PURITY.

WARRANTED TO KEEP IN ANY CLIMATE

We do most earnestly caution consumsrs of Baking Powder against using adulterated and cheap goods, as no good and pure Baking Powder can be sold for less than ours.

An analysis of the cheap clap-trap spurious adulterated goods called Baking Powder, would startle the community of consumers beyond precedence, as most of it is not fit for use, and would not be allowed to be sold were the laws enforced; yet goods of this kind are manufactured and sold by dealers because offered cheap by unscrupulous manufacturers. We caution those who value health, and appreciate good, wholesome living to buy only Pure Baking Powder. Jones' Unrivaled is such. It is an established article throughout the West and South, and is recommended by the highest authority for Purity and Strength.

All first-class storekeepers have it because it is pure and can be relied upon, and is a credit to their stock.

Merchants are authorized to warrant our goods where directions are followed.

Our statements are correct and are backed by chemists of note and experience, and we hold ourselves ready to prove our assertions.

We are offering goods of undoubted purity, which are in their compounding, as we claim "UNRIVALED."
